The committee is authorized to viait the custom houses at New York, Philadelphia and Boston. PAY DAY IN THE DEPARTMENTS .- To-day was the semi-monthly pay day in all the departments and the cierks were all on the qui vise to receive their several quotas of brand new silver certificates. It is the ustom of some Treasury bureaus to ap-point a pay officer, who draws the money selonging to their immediate offices—and at a certain hour in the afternoon on the 15th and 30th of each month the clerks re-ceive their envelopes from this subordi-nate official. This has been the custom in the first Comptroller's Office for several years and it not only accommodates clerks but saves the time and confusion incident upon paying off so large a number of people. glutted a few days ago with silver paper, when the Sult-Treasury at that point paid Maine her direct tax of $357,302. The presumption is that Maine owed a considerable grocery and dry goods bill in Boston and paid it when she got her drawback. The appearance of these crisp new notes in the Hub has evidently unset the old traders, who are accustomed to handling the greasy old legal tenders, now almost out of use. Meanwhile Uncle Sam will go right along and do business in his own good way. of four bours and a half from Knoxville. At Sherman Heights a local committee, headed by ex-Congressman H. Clay Evans and Mayor Merriam of Chattanooga, boarded the train. With them was Mr. Carter Harrison, the President's brother, who lives at Murfreesboro. Tenn.

As the train neared Chattanooga it became apparent that great preparations were being made for the reception of the distinguished guest and his fellow-travelers. Steam whistles in the outskirts of the city biew ear-splitting welcomes, while the employes of the manufacturing establishments on the railroad shouted and waved their hals as the train went by. At the depot in Chattanooga representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and public officials met the President and escorted him and his party in carriages to Captain Catley, who was court-martialist and acquitted of the charge of cowardics at the Pine Ridge fight with Sioux In-dians, has asked to be placed on the re-tired list. Lieutenant Erwin, tives of the Chamber of Commerce and public officials met the President and escorted him and his party in carriages to the foot of Lookout Mountain, where cars were taken for the summit.

At the Lookout Inn the President pointed out to Mrs. Harrison the spot where he was encamped at one time during the war. From the mountain the party was driven about the city which was profusely decorated with benting. The streets were crowded with enthusiastic citizens and all the school children stood in front of their respective schools and waved flags and shouted as the Presidential party drove by. The military companies of the city also paraded. The drive ended at a temporary platform about which an immense assemblage was packed. Here the President was introduced to the crowd by Ex-Congressman Evans in a brief speech. The President made a short address, at many points of which he was enthusiastically cheered.

After the President, amid great enthusiasm, had concluded his speech. Postmaster-General Wanamaker and Secretary Rusk held a short reception, and men, women and children paying little heed to the cordon of police and militia, crowded forward to get a chance to grasp the President's hand. The party then proceeded to the depot, where the President held another reception from the rear platform of the observation car. As the train drew out of the depot the assembled crowd burst into wild enthusiasm, which the President acknowledged by bowing and smiling until the crowd was left behind.

Two plans were submitted by Engineer Brown. The one provides for the condemnation of squares 537 and 583, lying between E and Four and a-half streets, and the present tracks of the company. The other includes squares 267 and 268, lying between Fourteenth and Thirteenth streets northwest and a small portion of the square between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets northwest. The plans were explained by the engineer and the matter discussed for several hours by the Commissioners.

After the meeting Colonel Robert accompanied the railroad men TO VIEW THE SQUARE

A number of squares contain houses, but the company has not yet de-termined through what portions of the blocks their tracks will be rim.

A RACE WAR.

A North Carolina City Divided Into Hostile Camps. CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 15,-The trouble between the white and negro population of this city, which originated over the murder of Macca, an Italian, presumably by Henry Brandham, colored, and which led to an attempt to lynch the risoner on Monday night, is becoming ominous.

The streets last night were packed with excited men, while the negroes were holding a mass-meeting to decide what they will do. A detachment of milita was fired upon by the negroes at an early hour this morning, and it is reported that several negroes were badly injured. Last night an extra force of policemen guarded the jail, it being deemed advisable o relieve the militia to give them a much

The hardware stores were raided yesterday by citizens in search of lirearms, and young men, boys and all have gons.

Never before in the history of the city has such excitement existed as during the past twenty-four hours. The ladies are badly frightened. The negroes say they expect to burn every white church in the city in their efforts for revenge.

The minds of the whites have wandered from the idea of lynching and now it is a contest between white and negro demination. Grave fears are expressed for the safety of the city. afety of the city.

CONCERNING THE DIRECT TAX. What First Comptroller Matthews Decided About the States.

Judge Matthews, the First Comptroller said this morning that he could not be p sponsible for the mistakes newspaper reporters published regarding his decisions. "There seems to be a great deat of misapprehension about my decision in regard to the direct tax disbursements," he said, "What the newspapers should say is simply this: In every case where I find a state indebted to the Government, whose direct tax is payable into that State's transmry. I propose to reserve sufficient of its tax money to cancel the Government's debt, but, where I find the direct tax made payable to a State, for distribution to the original payer—the people from whom it was collected—I feel that I have no authority to hold any part of such sum, even though the State may be indebted to the General Government.

"To brief the story, in the first cases the money belongs to the State, and in the second it belongs to the fixed, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the State, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the State and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it becomes to the tax and in the second it belongs to the State and in the second it belongs to the State, and in the second it belongs to the State, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it belongs to the state, and in the second it is a second in the s sponsible for the mistakes newspaper & formed by telegraph this morning of Mrs. Halford's death.

Mrs. Mary Frances Halford was born at Wilton, Maine, on June 26, 1847, and was married on May 1, 1866. She has a single relative living, a sister, who resides at Alameda, Cal. All the other members of her family succumbed to the disease that ended her life, acute bronchitis.

It is believed by her Friends that Mrs. Halford's death was primarily hastened by the shock and excitement she suffered at the time of the Johnstown flood. It will be remembered she was on the express train which was caught in the flood and from which so few escaped. Mrs. Halford was saved by the porter of a Pullman car.

NEWS FROM LONDON.

THE POPULARITY OF THE RUDINI AD-MINISTRATION ON THE WANE.

Growing Belief that the Action in the New Orleans Matter was a Clamsy Bluff-Queen Victoria and the Mani-pur Affair-Bismarck's Chances Before the Electors.

LONDON April 15.-A dispatch from ome says that there is no doubt there n well imformed circles that the recall of Fava was a contemptible piece of acting on the part of the Italian Government and that the whole story will shortly be made public to the discomfiture of the Rudini Cabluet. Official papers are in existence showing that Fava had asked and his government had granted a leave of absence before the New Orleans mas-sucre was heard of or had oc-curred and that Rudini had af-terward decided and determined to give a dramatic and bravado aspect to the Min-ister's holiday by proclaiming it a recall. He really expected to frighten the Ameri-He really expected to frighten the Ameri-cans, and in failing to do so has made himself such an object of ridicule that he may have to retire in shame and leave the field to Crispi, who is doing everything possible to add to his successor's embar-rassment. Should Crispi regain power it is expected that he will give the whole correspondence to the public.

The levying of new taxes, which is now recognized as the only way out of the financial slough, cannot fail to busten Rudini's downfall. Even had Crispi rermained in power, these taxes would have had to be imposed, and his retirement has saved him from the unpopularity that will attend their imposition.

A number of Socialists left Hamburg early this morning for Geestemande to use their influence against Bismarck and many others have been there since Sunday. It is said that the Prince's Bismarck and the children would prefer to see the Prince remain out of tublic life.

His Name is George A. Bram and He Bears a Bad Reputation Wherever Known-Two More Arrests at York,

Pennsylvania. RIMING Sun, April 13.-The acarely for spects implicated in the burglary and inder on Sunday night at the residence of J. Granville Richards has resulted so far in the arrest of a young man named George A. Bram, who lived within three and a half miles of the Richards house. THE EXCITEMENT. throughout Cecil County was intensified by this arrest, so unsavory was the repuation of the young man in the neighborhood in which he was reared that auspicion at once fastened upon him as one most likely to commit such a deed. Bram was a medical student in Baltimore who, though he failed to pass examination, requisite to graduation, was known as Dr. Gram. His reputation where he was known in Baltimore was no better than

The sherift is commanded to hold Bram until to-morrow, when he is to be given a hearing. The arrest, which was made in order to get into custody the man suspected of the Octorara Hills crime, was accomplished by Detective Charles Ottey of Media, Pa. Henry J. Cummings of this place and Constable John A. Recher. THE RICHARDS MURRER,

IN THE DEAD OF MOUT these three nech went to Bram's house, near Colors. They got him out of bed, made him dress himself, and, having brought him to Rising Sun, a special train conveyed the party to Elkton, which town was reached at to clock this morning.

As he did so a pistol fell from his coat pocker. It was in a case. Both he and the detective stooped to pick it up. The latter was quicker, however, and secured the weapon.

"Oh! that's all right," exclaimed Brant. I don't need a pistol. Everybody knows that.

Detective Ottey says that upon examining the weapon he found that three of the cartridges had been fired, and that the barrel smelled strong of powder. Neither the prisoner nor his captors referred to the murder and robbery on the trip to Elkton. At the jail, however, Detective Ottey spoke of the tragedy, and Bram said he supposed he was suspected or it. To-day he denied to the sheriff all knowledge of the four deed.

I was in Baltimore on Sunday night he said, "and spent the evening, until 11 o'clock, at 710 Portland street." He stated further that his visit to these parts yesterday was the first he had made n four weeks,

Another bit of CIRCLIMITANTIAL EVIDENCE which is being woven about the prisoner is that a clear glass bottle containing a little whisky was found in Bram's house when searched from cellar to garret to-day. Arguing that Bram was one of the men seen under the big oak tree near the Richards mansion, those who suspect him say the bottle was the shining something which an old colored man saw who passed. While there is a strong suspicion that Bram was in some way connected with the crime, yet as far as can be learned this is all the evidence there is against him. THE HUNT FOR SUSPECTS has not yet been abandoned. Careful watch is being kept everywhere about, it would seem as if three-fourths of the residents hereabout had united in an endeavor to apprehend and bring to justice the assessing.

At lo clock to morrow the inquest will be held at the scene of the murder. No jury has as yet been impanneled, but there will, doubtless, be plen'ty of people to pick from at the house.
